Dear LearningWorks AfterSchool Families,

Happy 2019! The LearningWorks AfterSchool team hopes you had a fantastic winter break spent with family and friends, playing outside and relaxing. Our team of quality educators is excited to start our new engineering unit this January on Earthquakes. Students will engineer model buildings that are earthquake resistant. In addition, we will continue our enrichment opportunities including technology, arts, and health and wellness.

Please welcome Rebecca Cote our interim Site Coordinator at Waterboro Elementary School. Rebecca comes to us from Biddeford LearningWorks AfterSchool. She will be filling in for Aimee while she is out on maternity leave.

What are afternoon meetings?

Each afternoon students participate in an afternoon meeting with their peers following a Responsive Classroom approach. Responsive Classroom is an evidence-based approach to teaching focusing on engaging activities, positive community building, effective management, and developmental awareness. During this time students have the opportunity to greet one another, share, and complete a team builder or game.
