In the new engineering unit kids will use each step of the Engineering Design Process as they become mechanical engineers. Mechanical engineers are people who use their creativity and knowledge of science and math to solve problems related to machines. In this unit, kids design a trap to catch a cane toad. They use simple materials in creative ways to engineer a machine that can solve their problem.

We do our best to get outside daily. Please send winter weather gear with your child. We find when we all get outside we have less wiggly kids and less behavior issues. Thanks!
